

Write a great thesis or dissertation...

with less stress

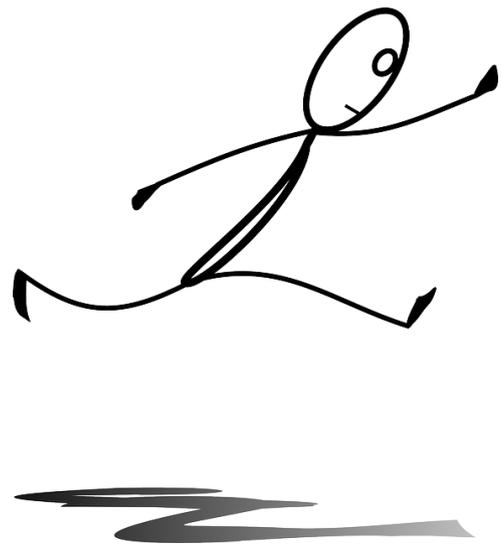

* Open Interactive Lecture

Writing a thesis or dissertation is one of the most important, difficult tasks in your life. But it shouldn't be a nightmare. It can be an exciting challenge, with a result you can be proud of. We want to help you make your dissertation writing strong, effective, even enjoyable.

November 7 (木) 16.30-17.45

Open to all graduate students

No registration required

Where: Liberal Arts and Sciences Main Building

Lecture Room S2X (2nd floor, south)

Subjects / Speakers:

“Write an effective, useful abstract in 30 minutes”

Ass. Prof. Paul Lai, PhD

“Connecting the dots in your thesis/dissertation”

Ass. Prof. Kasaki Masashi, PhD

“I wish someone had told me this before!”

Yabushita Momoko, MA (PhD program)

 Includes discussion time to address students' questions and worries

Presented in English

Contacts (日本語でもいいです)

Jeeseon Kim: daw.nu@ilas.nagoya-u.ac.jp 052-747-6534

Mark Weeks: mark@ilas.nagoya-u.ac.jp

Nagoya University Writing Center