■授業の目的【英語】：The primary goal of this course is to foster logically sound research writing skills through learning how to build a clear thesis statement (central research claim) for a research paper and a convincing logical argument based on the thesis statement.
■授業の達成目標【日本語】：授業の目的【英語】を参照してください。
■授業の達成目標【英語】：This is a two-semester course exclusively designed for graduate students who are planning to write a research paper – e.g., dissertation, journal paper, conference paper, conference abstract, etc. Through a specially designed Research Writing Recipe, the course will offer you comprehensive knowledge with step-by-step guidance on how to write a research paper from scratch. You will be guided to accomplish the most important tasks in the research writing process, including (i) build a thesis statement that would make your research original and clear, (ii) develop the thesis statement into a logical argument that would make your paper convincing and compelling, (iii) strengthen the argument by anticipating and eliminating the potential counterarguments that challenge the core ideas of your research, (iv) develop the argument into a full-blown research paper through writing an appealing abstract and attractive introduction. The spring semester of the course will focus on (i) and (ii). The fall semester will focus on (iii) and (iv). For details about the lessons in each semester, see the course content below. All the lessons will be delivered in clearly spoken English, accompanied by simple and entertaining presentation materials that can be readily understood and enjoyed by everyone. After successfully completing the entire course, you should be in a good position to complete and submit your paper for publication.
■授業の内容や構成 Students of this course will be divided into groups and are encouraged to have active discussions and interactions with the instructor and group members during the class. All the class activities will be conducted based on YOUR OWN RESEARCH! The spring semester will cover the following sessions: Lesson 1: Writing is Thinking (Lecture) (Introduce the practical and constructive logical thinking skills for research writing.) Lesson 2: The major components of research writing (Lecture) (Distinguish research writing from other genres of writing through eleven major components.) Lesson 3: Develop your research originality – 1 (Lecture & Group-work) (How to effectively build your research background and clarify the research problem.) Lesson 4: Develop your research originality – 2 (Lecture and Group work) (How to effectively generate a research question and hypothesis for your research.) Lesson 5: Develop the core elements of your research originality (Lecture and Group-work) (Develop the research focus, perspective, boundary, and relation among the three elements.) Lesson 6: Build a Thesis Statement for your research (Lecture and Group-work) (Turn your research originality into a one-sentence thesis statement.) Lesson 7: Present and discuss your thesis statement – 1 (Presentation and Discussion) Lesson 8: Present and discuss your thesis statement – 2 (Presentation and Discussion) Lesson 9: What is logic? (Lecture)

(How to use logic practically and effectively.) Lesson 10: How to practically apply logic to your research. (Group-work and Discussion) (How to apply logic to your research through fun and exciting excises.) Lesson 11: Build a Logical Argument for your research (Lecture) (Understand what a logical argument is, and distinguish (i) premise, (ii) data, (iii) evidence.) Lesson 12: How to prove your thesis statement – 1 (Lecture and Group-work) (Understand the Premise of Proof through some fun logical exercises.) Lesson 13: How to prove your thesis statement – 2 (Group-work and Discussion) (Build a Premise of Proof for your thesis statement based on the evidence.) Lesson 14: Research Ethics (Lecture) (How to avoid plagiarism, data fabrication, and other research misconducts.) Lesson 15: Review, reflection, and course evaluation. (Discussion)
■教科書: For this course, the instructor has developed a special textbook called the Research Writing Recipe. It includes the step-by-step guide on how to (i) establish research originality and clarity, (ii) build a thesis statement, (iii) build a logical argument, (iv) write an appealing abstract and attractive introduction, etc. All these materials will be provided free of charge to full-time students of the course.
■課外学修等: Outside the course hours, all students are required to (i) Complete the designated exercises in the Research Writing Recipe, (ii) Have at least one tutorial session with the course instructor.
■注意事項: (i) From April 2023, the course will be conducted face-to-face unless otherwise instructed by the course instructor. (ii) To apply for the course, you are required to complete the following steps: (a) Send an email to the course instructor, with the reason(s) for taking this course. (b) Upon receiving the approval from the course instructor, register the course.

■授業の達成目標【英語】：Participants will write a research question, a thesis statement, and a preliminary abstract for a paper they plan to write. They will deliver one oral presentation analyzing the structure of a paper published in their field. They will discuss course-related topics with other participants and the instructor.
■授業の内容や構成 These are the major questions to be addressed. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> What is academic writing? How is it different from other kinds of writing? What is a research question? How are research questions answered? What is a thesis statement, and how do I write one? What is logical argumentation? How do I use it to support my thesis statement? What is an abstract, and how do I write one? Participants will write one abstract of their own current or planned research project, based on a research question and including a thesis statement. This is often a preliminary abstract for a graduation thesis. Students will deliver an oral presentation analyzing a research paper in their own field.
■教科書：Materials provided by the instructor or participants.
■課外学修等：Participants need to complete course readings before weekly meetings (typically 2 to 10 pages in English), and complete all requirements described in "Course Evaluation Method", including preparation outside class time.

■授業の目的【英語】：The primary goal of this course is to foster foundational research writing skills. This course places emphasis on constructing the necessary elements of research writing, with a focus on persuasiveness and clarity.
■授業の達成目標【英語】：This course will provide students with the hidden tools of research writing to enable them to construct new research projects or upgrade their existing ones. In this course, we will cover a variety of topics related to the fundamentals of research. Students will conduct three workshops related to: 1) Thesis statements, 2) Hypothesis generation, and 3) Support in research writing. Equipped with this experience, students will be able to create their own research projects with ease, as well as comprehend, at a fundamental level, research projects in unrelated fields. This class is mainly for students looking to publish or advance their research (e.g., conference proposal, dissertation, abstract, etc.) in English, although limited support for a research project in Japanese is also acceptable. Regardless, I strongly encourage students who are in the initial stages of their research to join as well.
■授業の内容や構成 Week 1: Course introduction, orientation; What is research? Why write/publish? Week 2: Structure of scientific papers; In pursuit of publishing a paper: What do you need first? Week 3: Observations, research questions, and thesis statements; Problems, objectives, and hypotheses Week 4: Key types of observations and research questions; The magic hypothesis – demonstrations Week 5: Student research topics to workshop: Factors to consider; Analysis of published research papers: Examples Week 6: Student Workshop Week 7: Feedback from workshop; The need for logic: Alternative hypotheses; Visual and aural illusions – exploring possibilities Week 8: Logical puzzles – eliminating possibilities; Logical inferences; Magic hypothesis: Alternatives Week 9: Student Workshop; The magic of argument building – support Week 10: How to evaluate support? Applications to your research: Common patterns, confirmation bias Week 11: Applications to your research: Imagining the possibilities; Supporting your thesis statement through argument building; What counts as support? Week 12: Logic in Academic Writing: Fundamental structure Week 13: Logic in Academic Writing: Inductive reasoning Week 14: Student Workshop Week 15: Feedback from workshop; Scientific reasoning; Final thoughts; Class feedback
■教科書：There is no required text for this course. Handouts will be distributed by the instructor.
■課外学修等：Students are expected to review and prepare before class as directed by instructor (about 30 mins. as necessary)
■注意事項：(1)Open to graduate students who are able to at least read and listen in English (speaking and writing also preferable). (2)Preference will be given to those who are planning to submit abstracts or proposals to conferences or journals, or have structural questions about their master's or PhD dissertation. (3)Students who wish to participate as observers may do so.

■授業の目的【英語】：The primary goal of this course is to foster logically sound presentation skills, enabling students to organize and communicate information clearly, convincingly, enjoyably in international contexts at any research stage.
■授業の達成目標【英語】：The main practical objectives are to help students/researchers in any research field to: 1. acquire skills in preparing logical, clear and persuasively effective academic presentations that can improve their research and be used as models for the future. 2. develop confidence and competence in delivering presentations in English. 3. gain confidence in communicating both within and outside research fields.
■授業の内容や構成 Classes are conducted in an informal atmosphere, with students discussing issues and working together in pairs or small groups, changing partners each week. Most lessons include a short interactive lecture by the instructor, with related group or class discussions and exercises. Here is a tentative schedule: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. How presenting improves your research, and you: challenges and pleasures 2. Reducing nervousness / clarifying your main aim and significance 3. Creating logical flow, considering the audience's knowledge and motivations 4. Effective slide design for logical flow and clarity 5. Delivering naturally: voice, body language, interaction with slides 6. Communicating logic and nuance through English language / question time strategies 7-9. 1st presentations 10. Adjusting communication for different audiences 11. Editing and delivery techniques for different situations 12-14. 2nd presentations 15. Course review * Students give 2 presentations using their own research (even incomplete research) or other research material. Individual consultation is offered during preparation, and detailed feedback is given to support improvement. Students can choose to receive a video recording of their presentation for personal review.
■教科書：None. All materials provided by the instructor,
■課外学修等：Students will be asked to prepare two presentations for the class as part of self-directed learning. The instructor will be freely available for consultation throughout the process.
■注意事項：Contact me at my email address if you have any questions. Class size is limited and students are accepted on a first come, first served basis. It is possible (but not essential) to reserve a place in the course by emailing me.

■授業の目的【日本語】：本コースの主な目標は2つである。まず、(i)すべての学問分野の学生に必要な学力を身につけ、さらに(ii)すべての専門職に対して汎用性のある学力を身につけることを目的としている。同時に本コースは、従来の教室型授業から発想を転換した一般教養教育の実践を通して、学生のアクティブ・ラーニングを促進し、思考、コミュニケーション、リーダーシップに対する自信を養うことを目指す。
■授業の目的【英語】：The primary goal of this course is twofold. On the one hand, it aims to foster learning the academic skills that are (i) NECESSARY for students of all academic disciplines and (ii) TRANSFERABLE to all professional careers. On the other hand, it aims to transform general education outside the conventional classroom setting so that a suitable learning environment can be created to promote student's active learning and develop their self-confidence in thinking, communication and leadership.
■授業の達成目標【日本語】：英語版の説明文をご覧ください。
■授業の達成目標【英語】：You will learn some of the most important academic skills in four days, including how to (i) think logically for research, (ii) write a clear and convincing research paper, (iii) communicate and present effectively in English, (iv) uphold a high standard of research integrity, (v) work together as a team, (vi) lead a team of people of different backgrounds, races, and nationalities. To help you learn those academic skills effectively, a positive learning environment will be created to boost your self-confidence in thinking, communication and leadership. The course will be conducted at a beautiful and relaxed campsite in the mountain areas of Nagano prefecture. All the learning activities are carried out within a team setting. You will work with three or four group members throughout the four-day camp to compete with other groups for a group prize. In this competitive environment, you will have to learn how to support each other as a team. And through the collective efforts and mutual support, you will naturally become more active and confident in learning.

■担当教員からのメッセージ：这是一个学习的课堂，也是大家练习学会发表以及学术交流的场所。课上学生们从自己的研究出发，互相启发，互相帮助，创设了一个很好的研究氛围。汉语非母语的学生，除了论文写作训练以外，还可以提高汉语的语言表达能力；中国留学生可以训练逻辑思辨能力以及提高论文的写作技巧。每周除了正常授课外，还有一节个别辅导时间，有需要的学生可以利用这个时间商谈论文或练习学会发表。总之，它就像一个“汉语之家”，欢迎更多的同学加入到我们的行列中。
